

The Bulletin

Norwich, Wednesday, July 26, 1922.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.
Generally fair weather has prevailed during the last 24 hours, except that there were scattered showers along the Atlantic coast.

The temperature was lower Tuesday in the Middle Atlantic states and the far northwest and it was higher in Wyoming and Colorado and portions of the adjacent states.

The indications are for mostly fair weather Wednesday and Thursday in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic states. There will be little change in temperature Wednesday but the weather will become somewhat warmer Thursday in the Atlantic states from Virginia northward.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Moderate to fresh east and southeast and weather overcast Wednesday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh easterly and weather overcast Wednesday.

Forecast.

For Southern New England: Fair Wednesday and Thursday, slightly warmer Thursday.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Tuesday:

	Ther. Bar.
2 a. m.	49 29.90
6 p. m.	59 29.90
Highest 70, lowest 60.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Tuesday: Cloudy to partly cloudy.
Tuesday's weather: Cloudy, easterly wind, cooler.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

	Sun	High	Low
Day:	a. m. p. m.	a. m. p. m.	a. m. p. m.

24	4.31	2.14	9.25	Set
25	4.34	2.15	10.12	7.49
26	4.36	2.17	11.12	8.30
27	4.38	2.19	12.16	9.05
28	4.40	2.21	1.22	9.55
29	4.42	2.23	2.30	10.29
30	4.44	2.25	3.40	10.59

Six hours after high water in low water, is followed by flood tide.

GREENEVILLE

Miss Marion Blackledge is spending a few days with friends at Allyn's Point. Mrs. William Ball and two children of Mansfield, N. J., are visiting Mrs. Ball's sister, Mrs. William Maybury of Prospect street.

Rufus Harris has sold his house, corner of Tenth and South Main streets, and is moving with his family this week to Preston, where he has bought a house on Murray street.

William Andrews is having two weeks' vacation and is spending part of the time at Groton Long Point.

TAFTVILLE

Mrs. Alice Moran and son are visiting relatives in Montreal, Canada. Edward McSheffery of North Third avenue is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Leon DeCelles has resigned his position at the Norwich State Hospital. Misses Ellen and Fannie Coughlin of Fall River, Mass., are visiting Miss Mary Murphy of North A street. Napoleon Pepin was a Sunday visitor in Hartford.

The regular meeting of the Pompanah Council, No. 24, K. C. was held in the hall on Monday evening. Grand Knight William Delaney presided. Miss Mary McSheffery has returned to her home on South A street after spending a week's vacation at Block Island, R. I.

Edwin Pollard, who has been the guest of his father, William Pollard, at South Second avenue, has returned to Boston, Mass.

Harold Linderson has returned to North Greenfield after spending the week-end with Mr. and Philip Linderson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sharpley spent the week-end at Groton Long Point. Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hinde and son Edmund, have returned from spending the week-end in Providence, R. I.

Louis Tillingsham has returned to his home on North Third avenue, after enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Rogers Lake, Conn., and Natick, N. T.

Rev. Edwin Crowder, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Abernethy, has returned to his home in Northampton, Mass.

Bernard Crawford has resigned his position with the Pompanah Mills. Misses Doris Fontaine and Alma Law have left the Pompanah House and returned to Mansfield, Conn.

Rev. U. O. Bellerose was a visitor in Putnam Monday.

Thomas Hubbard from Brattleboro, Vt., is visiting friends in town.

Funeral Director George G. Grant was in New London Monday afternoon to meet the body of Mrs. Napoleon Fontaine, which came from Providence, R. I.

George Felner, who has been under treatment at the U. S. Hospital No. 41, New Haven, is visiting his parents here.

Ernest Couture of Fort H. G. Wright spent Monday at his home on South A street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoyle of Boston, Mass., are the guests of his parents.

Collected With Trolley Car.
Ralph Feinstein, of Providence, a salesman with his touring car filled with sample cases, collided with a trolley car on Franklin street in front of The Bulletin building Tuesday afternoon about 6.30. He was driving out of the alleyway next to The Bulletin building just as the one-man trolley car for Bowell avenue came from Franklin square. The automobile grazed the side of the trolley car with its left forward mudguard, which was doubled up and the tire on the left forward wheel was flattened out.

Officer Thomas Murphy took the names of the automobile driver and the car crew.

Miss Lillian Moller has accepted a position with the J. B. Martin Co. of Columbia. She will be in charge of the clothing department.

The twilight game on the Providence street grounds this (Wednesday) evening will be between the "Will-Be's" and the T. A. team. This nine is made up of the young bloods of the village who are anxious to give their older brothers a trimming. Manager Troland refuses to give their lineup, and the fans are expecting to see some dark horses. The T. A. will line up as follows: J. Belair, c; Jack Murphy p; Mike Morin, 1b; R. Cardie, 2b; Decelles, 3b; F. Murphy, 3b; William Giff; Lemieux, cf; and Jim Murphy, rf.

Frank Pearson from Vernon, Conn., is calling on friends here.

Alex. Murdoch has left town for a short vacation in Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Glenn sang left town Monday night for New York, en route to Panama.

FOUR COWS POISONED IN PASTURE

Some unknown person, who seems to have been actuated by a grudge against either Andrew Rossmark or Egon Blankenfeld, is believed to be responsible for the poisoning of four cows last Monday in the Rossmark pasture on the Stonington road in this city.

Two of the cows died, but the other two were saved by a veterinarian. Two of the cattle were found dead in the pasture Monday morning, and two others were sick. Dr. N. C. Gray was immediately called and was able to save the two sick cows by administering an antidote. He pronounced it a case of strychnine poisoning.

The animals saved were a year-old heifer and a cow. Of the two cows that died, one belonged to Mr. Rossmark and the other to Mr. Blankenfeld.

A reward has been offered for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who placed the poison where the cows could get it in the pasture.

CAN STATE APPEAL IN JEWETT CITY CIDER CASE?

The interesting question of whether the state can appeal in Jewett City cider case will be argued before Judge Arthur M. Brown in the Jewett City court this (Wednesday) morning.

After the jury of six men had rendered a verdict Monday that neither John Potter, Joseph B. Totten nor Herbert Haywood had kept the 129 barrels of cider for sale or exchange in violation of law, Attorney H. H. Burroughs, who prosecuted the case, gave notice that he would appeal. Judge Brown remarked that he supposed the attorney had that privilege, but Attorney Thomas Shields, counsel for the defendants, did not at once agree. He suggested that the law be looked up and when section 2785 had been read he disputed the right of the state, as plaintiff, to appeal.

The law was found to read as follows: Sec. 2785—All proceedings for the seizure of spurious and intoxicating liquors shall be proceedings in rem, and shall be conducted as civil actions, and the defendant shall have the same right of appeal.

Upon this reading of the law Attorney Shields claimed the plaintiff had no right of appeal and Judge Brown said he would hand Mr. Burroughs's argument on Wednesday, although he indicated that he did not appear to think the plaintiff could not be disposed of. After the verdict had been pronounced, Mr. Potter shook hands with the members of the jury and with his counsel but declined to accept a professional hand. Deputy Sheriff John T. Dolan, who approached with an expression of congratulation.

"Oh, no, not you, thank you," said Mr. Potter as he refused to shake hands. Those who noticed the incident between Mr. Potter and the deputy sheriff ascribed it to some testimony given by State Policemen Fields that the Jewett City deputy sheriff had been one of their party in the visit to Mr. Potter's place.

Although the Jewett City officer had not arrived there with the main party of officers.

NOTHING BUT GOVERNOR WILL SATISFY TEMPLETON

"Governor or nothing," Lieutenant Charles A. Templeton in a businesslike and straightforward manner made the above declaration to a Watertown American reporter. He said that under no consideration would he consent to have his name mentioned for renomination as lieutenant governor. Therefore the hopes of the veteran political strategists to present the entire present state ticket at the convention have been blasted.

"I will not permit any one to present my name at the convention for renomination," said Mr. Templeton. "I have been lieutenant governor. I have served as faithfully as human endeavor would permit. But I am a busy man and my business requires a great deal of my time. Therefore I cannot consent to serve again as lieutenant governor. It will be governor or nothing. Two years will be sufficient for me as I cannot give more time than that to any public office. If elected I would not spend my time building up a machine to reelect me; I would give my undivided attention to serving the public and to the fulfillment of the duties of my office."

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS FOR MLEAN AND LONGERGAN

The state executive body of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in session at Waterbury endorsed Augustus Longergan for congress and George P. McLean for reelection to the United States senate.

Mr. Longergan, who won record as favoring a state bonus and named a committee to draft a suitable bill to be presented to the next session of the general assembly.

State Commander John H. Williams of Bridgeport named the following appointive officers:

Chief of staff, Henry E. Gerrish, Hartford; patriotic instructor, D. C. Nielsen, Hartford; director of publicity, Walter R. Brooks, Waterbury; committee on finance, J. R. Kelley, C. W. Farrer, J. J. Devine, Bridgeport; legislative committee, Bertram Well, department judge advocate, New Haven; Bertram Well, department judge advocate, New Haven; W. J. Shanahan, junior vice commander, Waterbury; W. R. Collins, South Norwalk.

GIRL SCOUTS' PAGEANT FOR GOVERNOR'S DAY

Hartford Girl Scouts who are in camp at Gales Ferry, have been making great preparations for today (Wednesday), which is to be Governor's day when Governor Everett, J. Lake is to visit the camp.

It is also to be visitors' day for all interested friends from the Girl Scouts will be glad to have inspect the camp and be in attendance for the pageant that will be given at 2.30 p. m.

Collected With Trolley Car.
Ralph Feinstein, of Providence, a salesman with his touring car filled with sample cases, collided with a trolley car on Franklin street in front of The Bulletin building Tuesday afternoon about 6.30. He was driving out of the alleyway next to The Bulletin building just as the one-man trolley car for Bowell avenue came from Franklin square. The automobile grazed the side of the trolley car with its left forward mudguard, which was doubled up and the tire on the left forward wheel was flattened out.

Officer Thomas Murphy took the names of the automobile driver and the car crew.

Miss Lillian Moller has accepted a position with the J. B. Martin Co. of Columbia. She will be in charge of the clothing department.

The twilight game on the Providence street grounds this (Wednesday) evening will be between the "Will-Be's" and the T. A. team. This nine is made up of the young bloods of the village who are anxious to give their older brothers a trimming. Manager Troland refuses to give their lineup, and the fans are expecting to see some dark horses. The T. A. will line up as follows: J. Belair, c; Jack Murphy p; Mike Morin, 1b; R. Cardie, 2b; Decelles, 3b; F. Murphy, 3b; William Giff; Lemieux, cf; and Jim Murphy, rf.

Frank Pearson from Vernon, Conn., is calling on friends here.

Alex. Murdoch has left town for a short vacation in Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Glenn sang left town Monday night for New York, en route to Panama.

THREW BLAZING CAN OF OIL ON NEW LONDON BOY

While playing with another child of nearly his own age in the rear of his home, James Graddock, Jr., nine, of Williams street, New London, was badly hurt Monday when a lighted can of oil was thrown on him. The child who threw the lighted oil evidently did not know the great danger involved and the injured boy had a narrow escape. A man, whose name has not been revealed, grabbed the burning can, smothered the flames, and ran with the lad to a private hospital near by.

At the institution it was found that the child had received burns from the head to foot on the left side. The child was reported Tuesday as resting comfortably and it is expected that he will come out of the injuries all right.

NUMBER FOUR

(Continued from Page Five)

man's League News, New York Dairyman's League, Utica, N. Y., 11.00 a. m., the Connecticut dairy marketing situation and the Connecticut dairy and food council plan of work. S. E. Hough, manager of the Conn. Milk Producers' Association, and President of the Conn. Dairy Board, Hartford, 11.30 a. m. What the Consumer Should Know about the milk and how we are reaching them. W. L. P. Lockwood, manager New England Dairy Food Council, Boston, 2.00 p. m., some factory of profits on profits on successful dairy farms. A. W. Manchester, professor of farm management, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, 2.30 p. m., a surplus of dairy products, led by F. C. Minkler, field agent, Chapin & Co., Chicago, Ill., 4.30 p. m., calf feedings demonstrated. Dr. C. G. Watson, a live wire skim milk and skim milk powder, at the orchard pasture near poultry building, L. Chauman, assistant dairy husbandman.

Friday, August 4.

9.00 a. m., demonstration, the triangular college bulletin, G. C. White, professor of dairy husbandry, dairy barn; 10.00 a. m., the Connecticut dairy marketing situation for the coming fall period, A. R. Merrell, dairy extension specialist; 10.30 a. m., some new forage crops, W. L. Slab, Jr., assistant director, Conn. Agricultural Experiment Station; 11.00 a. m., second year's results of the silage feeding trial at Storrs, G. C. White, professor of dairy husbandry; 11.30 a. m., Some problems of tuberculosis accredited herd work, Commissioner J. M. Whitteley, Hartford, Conn.; 1.30 p. m., Breeding and selection of dairy cattle, J. C. Merrell, dairy extension specialist; 2.30 p. m., live stock parade between dairy building and horse barn; 3.00 p. m., mock auction sale of dairy cattle, beef cattle and horses, leader, James G. Watson, live stock expert, Auctioneer, E. M. Granger, Jr., Thompsonville, Conn.; 5 p. m., barbecue, tickets one dollar.

Forestry Program

1.30 p. m., Farm forest fire protection, Austin F. Hayes, state forester, armory; 2.00 p. m., the Connecticut forest, rehabilitation of Connecticut rural districts, Henry S. Griggs, dean, school of forestry, Yale university; the Connecticut Forestry Association, Philip C. Wells, president, Middletown; 3.30 p. m., inspection of college forest plantations, special guidance, A. E. Bliss, inspector in forestry; 5.00 p. m., barbecue, tickets one dollar.

Horticulture

9.00 a. m., during demonstration, S. P. Hollister, professor of horticulture, orchard, west of Storrs hall; 10.30 a. m., Planning the home grounds, R. H. Patch, assistant professor of horticulture, meet at greenhouse.

Wednesday, August 2.

9.00 a. m., demonstration of thinning fruit, S. P. Hollister, professor of horticulture, meet at armory.

Thursday, August 3.

10.00 a. m., field demonstration and discussion of methods of control of insects and fungus troubles, meet at orchard west of Storrs hall; insect problems, W. E. Britton, entomologist, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, and George H. Lamson, Jr., professor of zoology, Storrs hall; Breeding, S. A. Clinton, botanist, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, and G. S. Torrey, assistant professor of plant pathology; control methods from the instruction standpoint, S. P. Hollister, professor of horticulture and A. T. Steens, professor of vegetable gardening; Control methods from the farmers' standpoint, Ernest E. Tucker, county agricultural agent, Tolland county, and Roy C. Guley, orchardist, Ellington; Control methods from the standpoint of manufacturers of materials and machinery, (Representatives of several companies dealing with liquid and dust methods of control, 10.30 a. m., Shrubs and Home Gardens, R. H. Patch, assistant professor of horticulture, meet at greenhouse; 1.30 p. m., general discussion of control of insect and fungus troubles, orchards and gardens.

Friday, August 4.

9.00 a. m., budding and grafting demonstration, S. P. Hollister, professor of horticulture, nursery west of Storrs hall; 10.00 a. m., winter over in the home, selection, culture and care, R. H. Patch, assistant professor of horticulture, room 13, Guley hall.

Live Stock Program

(All sessions in room 10, Dairy building, except as noted.)

Tuesday, August 1.

9.00 a. m., sheep judging demonstration, R. E. Begg, sheep specialist, sheep farm.

Wednesday, August 2.

2.00 p. m., live stock parade, campus.

Thursday, August 3.

9.00 a. m., sheep judging demonstration, R. E. Begg, sheep specialist, sheep farm; 10.00 a. m., Present day ewes, problems, John Buckler, Pittsfield, Mass.; Pig in Connecticut, F. S. Chapman, Saybrook and L. W. Robinson, Columbia; Observations here and there, J. A. Simms, animal husbandry specialist; 1.30 p. m., Forage crops, H. L. Garjigis, professor of animal husbandry, Swine barn; Judging swine, John Buckler, Pittsfield, Mass., swine barn, 2.30 p. m., Ten years with beef cattle in Connecticut, A. W. Reynolds, Newtown, Conn., beef barn.

Friday, August 4.

9.00 a. m., flock improvement demonstration, R. E. Begg, sheep specialist, demonstration farm, Spring Hill; 10.00 a. m., Buying horses from North Dakota, R. E. Begg, sheep specialist; North Dakota horses from the farmers' viewpoint, John Swan, Seymour, and S. Russell, Jr., Middletown, North Dakota, horses

The Boston Store

Norwich Reid & Hughes Co. Conn.

4-Day Mid-Summer Sale TODAY IS THE LAST DAY

Practically all the items first advertised for this sale are still in effect, and there are literally hundreds of opportunities to save money on necessary articles. Come in and look around.

THE BOSTON STORE'S APPAREL SHOP

All Summer Garments Reduced In Price

Pretty Frocks in Gingham, Voile and Organdie The Values Run as High as $7.50. ONLY $3.98

$12.50 SUMMER FROCKS $5.98 SPECIAL HAND-MADE BLOUSES $2.98

Pretty Dresses, made of thin tissues, imported ginghams, linene and organdie. Get a dainty new dress to finish up the Summer. A charming assortment of handsome Blouses, the various models being trimmed nicely with filet lace. All new goods. All sizes.

FIVE DOZEN SNAPPY, NEW MOHAIR SLIP-ON SWEATERS

You've been looking for them, but you wanted the right price. Light in weight, comfortable and stylish, and at a price which is way down. They should sell for $5.00. We have them in Harding Blue, Gray, Buff, White and Jade $2.69

ONE LOT OF $10.00 FIBRE SILK SWEATERS, in Navy, Black, White, and Sorrento Blue. These are a genuine $10.00 quality, there being several charming weaves $5.98

ALL COATS HALF-PRICE ALL BATHING SUITS REDUCED 25% ALL SUMMER DRESSES REDUCED 25%

ALL SUMMER SKIRTS REDUCED 25% $2.98 CREPE KIMONOS $5.98 Messaline Petticoats FOR $1.98 FOR $3.50

SPECIAL SALE OF CURTAINS

TODAY ONLY Two Wonderful Values TWO HUNDRED PAIRS WILL BE PLACED ON SALE

LOT No. 1 100 Pairs of Ruffled Voiles We have sold three hundred and fifty pairs of these curtains already this season, and not a pair has gone out for less than $2.00. All are spoke-stitched and nicely ruffled—TODAY ONLY $1.59

LOT No. 2 100 Pairs of Ruffled Marquisettes The material is of a very good quality, as these are our regular $1.59 curtains. All are ruffled, and have ruffled tie-back and make a very charming appearance—TODAY ONLY $1.15 from the auctioneers' viewpoint, E. M. Granger, Jr., Thompsonville; Economic home feeding, J. A. Simms, animal husbandry specialist; 1.30 p. m., Breeding better herds, J. G. Watson, live stock expert, Brandon, Vt.; 2.30 p. m., live stock parade, between dairy building and horse barn; 3.00 p. m., mock auction sale of dairy cattle, beef cattle and horses, near dairy building; leader, J. G. Watson, live stock expert, Brandon, Vt.; auctioneer, E. M. Granger, Jr., Thompsonville, Conn.; 5.00 p. m., barbecue.

Poultry Program

(All sessions in Hawley armory, except as noted.)

Monday, July 31.

2.00 p. m., Experimental work at the Massachusetts Agricultural college, J. C. Graham, professor of poultry husbandry, Massachusetts Agricultural college; 2.30 p. m., debate: Resolved that brown egg breeds are the best set for Connecticut poultrymen; Affirmative, G. M. Stack, Guilford; E. Newton Searles, Pomfret; E. K. Judd, Monroeville; negative, F. J. Lincoln, Mt. Carmel; Alexander Holmes, Clinton; Harold Tomlinson, Stepanny, W. W. Service, Norwich; 10.00 a. m., discussion of the committee report, led by Miss H. M. Banwell, Gaylordsville; 10.30 a. m., Building more permanent poultry houses, J. C. Taylor, assistant poultry specialist; 11.10 a. m., Standardization and use of such terms as "Tested," "Accredited," "Certified," and "Registered," R. E. Jones, extension poultryman, poultry building; 1.30 p. m., Hatching half the eggs is not enough, G. H. Lamson, Jr., professor of Zoology; 2.30 p. m., Where do Connecticut poultrymen buy breeding stock, baby chicks and hatching eggs? George V. Smith, Willington; 3.15 p. m., Distinguishing sex in day old chicks, D. E. Warner, assistant, assistant poultry husbandman, and L. C. Dunn, geneticist.

Thursday, August 3.

9.00 a. m., poultry culling demonstration, R. E. Jones, extension poultryman, poultry building; 1.30 p. m., demonstration talk, preparing fowl for the table, D. E. Warner, assistant professor of poultry husbandry, 2.30 p. m., Meeting emergencies in the home, Miss L. MacDonald, state home demonstration agent.

Friday, August 4.

9.00 a. m., caponizing demonstration, R. E. Jones, extension poultryman, poultry building; 1.30 p. m., Winter flowers in the home, selection, culture and care, R. H. Patch, assistant professor of horticulture, room 13, Guley hall; 11.00 a. m., reading, Just Polka, and other poems by the author, W. A. Wattle, music teacher in English, 13 Guley hall; 5.00 p. m., Barbecue.

Women's Program

(All sessions will be held in Holcomb hall, except as noted.)

Tuesday, August 1.

9.00 a. m., demonstration talk, equipment for the home, Miss J. G. MacKinnon, instructor in home economics; 10.30 a. m., Planting the home grounds, R. H. Patch, assistant professor of horticulture, room 13, Guley hall.

OUR BATTERIES ARE FRESH EVERY WEEK A COMPLETE LINE OF EVEREADY FLASH LIGHTS IN STOCK The Norwich Electric Co. 42-44 FRANKLIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

POETRY

GARDEN ROSES.

Roses, garden roses, toasting
Wealth of color down sunlit aisles;
When summer breezes away your petals
Your beauty every heart beguiles.
Your colors nature never fades—
Yellow, red, from richer mint,
Deeper, tender, vibrant, showing
Than any wildling's earth-born tint.

What genius is it lurks behind you?
Mixing carmine and mixing seeds,
Splicing alien twigs to branches,
Making wondrous new heads
Some see but a plodding gardener,
Deeper, tender, vibrant, showing
Than any wildling's earth-born tint.

Who are the golden halo?
Where the star of wide-spread wings?
Lost in fold on fold of petals,
Who are its number on one thing flings
Who know? The gods may be gods,
Shaping new forms from the old,
While some day both shall blend together
Flourishing a rose of perfect mold.
—Helen Archibald Clarke, in "Boston Transcript."

LOVE MAKES HIMSELF IN MANY DIFFERENT WAYS.

Love makes himself so many different ways
To tantalize the victims he would
Seek where no vestige of his steps
If you desire to catch him nowdays.

Perchance his art his subtlety displays
Behind a just a task, a curse, a
Love makes himself so many different ways
To tantalize the victims he would
Seek where no vestige of his steps
If you desire to catch him nowdays.

His busy touch on everything he lays,
Grieves at a smile, rejoices at a tear,
In each least word or deed he'd interfere
Disguised as truth or prudence or
Love makes himself so many different ways
To tantalize the victims he would
Seek where no vestige of his steps
If you desire to catch him nowdays.
—Charlotte Becker, in New York Herald.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Do you think there is an invisible government at work?" "If there is any government at work, it is invisible."
—Life.

Money can't do everything, but there is a tendency in human nature to be greedy when it comes to the things it can do.—Boston Transcript.

"What time-saving device has Snodgrass invented?"
"One he can't sell. It's an attachment that plays both sides of a photograph record at once."—Judge.

Teacher—"Why did Joshua command the sun to stand still?"
Tommy—"I guess it didn't agree with his watch."—Boston Transcript.

Henry's time for you, in 1922 "Who's Who," published in London, England. Henry Ford gets eight lines and Charlie Chaplin thirty-one lines.—Detroit Motor News.

A plot to kill Trotsky has just been discovered. It is said that the ring-leader was told that he must not do it as Trotsky was too busy with his business affairs ahead of Lenin, and Trotsky would be caused.—Punch (London).

Hub: I've brought home some good sticks for the children.
Why? What are they?
Hub: Popo sticks. Why, you might say they're still with St. Vitus dance.—Boston Transcript.

New Thought: Do you believe in mental suggestion?
Old Thought: Yes. Last week I told my husband that I was going to start my house cleaning, and the next day he left town on business.—Judge.

KALEIDOSCOPE

One of the oldest known types of dogs is the greyhound.
Amethysts have the reputation of calming and soothing the nerves.

The teeth of the harlequin snake are arranged like those of a cat.
At Vassar college the cooks are men and the professors are women.

Ten per cent. of the deaths in England are of infants under one year of age.
Sound can better be distinguished with one ear closed than with both ears open.

Stevenson devised an instrument called a dynamometer to measure the force of waves.
In one Australian wheat field 70,000 mice, weighing about a ton, were killed in one afternoon.